Re: Stock Sliding Tick

January 14, 1999

Due to the high traffic CBOE has experienced, a temporary suppression of duplicate stock last sales will be in effect beginning today from 8:30 am until the opening surge has leveled off. This means sliding tick and recap lines will update on price changes only. Cumulative stock volume will be updated on price changes only. Additional last sales at the same stock price will not be displayed.
