

BATS Global Markets to Introduce BATS Book Viewer and BATS Top APIs on September 1, 2015

Overview

BATS Global Markets is pleased to announce the upcoming introduction of JSON and XML APIs that can be used by BATS customers and vendors to quickly access, develop, and offer BATS Book Viewer and BATS Top Exchange Data to employees within their own organization or externally as part of a product offering.

The BATS Book Viewer API is a JSON API providing five levels of aggregated depth per security and includes the bid, ask, and share quantity for orders received by a specified BATS Exchange as well as the last 10 trades including time of trade, price and share quantity. The BATS Top API is an XML API providing the top of book (bid, ask, and quantity) for all securities traded on a specified Exchange as well as the last sale price. Firms that wish to access and receive Exchange Data via the Book Viewer and Top APIs will require entitlement to the secure BATS Member Portal. In addition, data received via the BATS Top API will be fee liable and charged at the Top Exchange Data rates per Exchange. Fees for the receipt of data via the BATS Book Viewer API are as follows:
