

Introducing PULSe Admin Web

Overview

Cboe is pleased to announce PULSe Admin Web, a risk management suite available to PULSe desktop users with Firm Administrator privileges. From PULSe Admin Web, Firm Administrators will have the ability to manage PULSe risk controls at the Firm, User, and Account levels, as well as run risk control reports.

Firm Administrators may access PULSe Admin Web by logging in using their current PULSe Login ID and password. Once logged in, users may view all current Firm, User, and Account risk controls in the appropriate tab. To edit a current control, simply select the appropriate tab, edit the desired control, and save.

Additional Information

Questions regarding PULSe Admin Web may be directed to Trading System Development or the Operations Support Center.

We appreciate your continued support and will work hard every day to keep earning your business by powering your potential to stay ahead of an evolving market. As always, we are committed to our customers and to making markets better as your partner in trading.
