

Cboe Options Trading Floor Closure Update

Reference ID: C2020032701

Overview

As indicated in a previous notice, as a precaution to reduce large gatherings that can contribute to the spread of the novel coronavirus (COVID-19), Cboe temporarily closed the Cboe Options (“C1”) trading floor in Chicago effective Monday, March 16, 2020. The trading floor remains closed until further notice.

Cboe will continue to evaluate the timing of reopening the trading floor in accordance with local, state, and federal recommendations. Certain amendments to Cboe’s rules to facilitate trading in an all-electronic environment while the trading floor is closed are only effective until May 15, 2020, unless further extended.

Additional Information
