

CFE's Migration to Bats Technology

The planned migration of Cboe Futures Exchange (CFE) to Bats technology remains on track for Sunday, February 25.

All milestones have been achieved on target, all weekend and weekday tests have been successful and as the new platform go-live date quickly approaches, the Cboe team continues to work hard to ensure CFE customer readiness. Only CFE TPHs and ISVs that have completed their certification for the new platform and whose clearing firm(s) has established risk settings on their behalf will be eligible to access the new CFE system.

As a reminder, there is no parallel period planned for the CFE migration where the existing and new platform will be available. Sunday, February 25 is a hard cut-over date and the legacy platform will be shut off. The final trading date on the current legacy platform will be Friday, February 23. CFE will conduct a final weekend test on Saturday, February 24.

See the CFE Tradedesk Update for additional information on the technology integration or refer to the CFE integration microsite. Questions may also be directed to the CFE Trade Desk at 312-786-8700 or CFEtradedesk@cboe.com.

CFE Incentive Programs Enrollment Changes

In connection with the migration of the CFE trading system to Bats technology, CFE TPHs will be required to enroll or make changes to existing enrollments via the customer web portal.
