

Chi-X Europe market data available on blue mobile™

MTF data streamed real-time direct via blue mobile™ – a bespoke subscription offer available for Chi-X Europe participants

London - 4 February 2009 – Blue Systems, a London-based provider of global financial information software, today announced that it has made Chi-X Europe's data available via blue mobile™, offering a bespoke service for Chi-X Europe participants in 2009.

Members will be able to receive real-time Chi-X Europe data on their mobile phone, with additional delayed feeds for LSE, EUREX and NASDAQ data, real-time currency, oil and precious metals prices, company financials for 50,000+ global stocks and the Dow Jones Business Newswire.

blue mobile™ provides professional and retail investors with the fastest, smartest way to analyse global stock market information in their offices, at home, or on the move, 24/7. It provides accurate, low-latency market data to those who depend on the financial markets and want real-time content over simple-to-use interfaces.

Sulim Malook, CEO of Blue Systems, said: "We recognise that the cost of viewing real-time data directly impacts the volume of trades made. Chi-X Europe provides its data free of charge and we are pleased it is partnering with Blue Systems to offer this bespoke subscription to its participants. We are delighted to bring the benefits of blue mobile™ to them."

Hirander Misra, Chief Operating Officer of Chi-X Europe said: "Since launch, Chi-X Europe has made its market data available free of charge and we are pleased to work with blue mobile™ to now offer our market data to our participants via mobile technology through a package tailored to them.”

With coverage of over 100 global exchanges, blue mobile™ delivers real-time, delayed and historic data across the equities, fixed income, futures and options, currency, commodity, metals, energy and OTC markets, plus company news and financial information. Users can also benefit from intuitive analytics and charting options for informed decision-making.

The low price point of blue mobile™ packages opens up real-time financial markets to non-professional users, who can register and download the software direct from Blue Systems’ website at www.bluesystems.info. Users can select content options to form a pre-bundled data package, including Dow Jones Newswires and company financials, or tailored content from the company’s extensive catalogue of real-time data. With online facilities for exchange permissioning and payment, the website enables users to seamlessly set up, install and benefit from professional grade market data.

About blue mobile™

blue mobile™ is the first professional-grade application to be priced for the mass market. It is designed to appeal to both the financial community and the emerging retail market for financial information – investors, advisors and other professionals who depend on the financial markets and want real-time content but over a simple-to-use interface. As such, it is a ‘sticky app’ for mobile operators with end users accessing streaming data on an ‘on-demand’ basis throughout the day. Its data sets
