

Changes to Rules and Procedures & Updates to Documents – TMX Rebrand

Monday 3rd August 2026

Reference ID: 0004|26

OVERVIEW

TMX Australia Exchange has today published updates to the Operating Rules, Operating Rules: Procedures, Listing Rules, and Listing Rules: Procedures. The new rules and procedures come into effect today and can be accessed here. TMX Australia Exchange has also rebranded various other documents.

Additional Information

The rules and procedures have been changed to reflect the change in ownership of TMX Australia Exchange. Specifically:

- a. references to “CXA” or “Cboe Australia” have been replaced with “TMX” or “TMX Australia Exchange” as appropriate, and the description of the legal entity operating the market has been updated;
- b. in the Operating Rules and Operating Rules: Procedures, references to Cboe BIDS Australia have been removed; and
- c. in the Listing Rules and Listing Rules: Procedures, references to the “Cboe Issuer Portal” have been removed, and the “Cboe exempt intralisting” category has been renamed to “TMX exempt intralisting”, noting however that this offering is subject to further regulatory engagement before it may become available.

Various minor typographical errors have also been corrected. Marked-up versions of the new rules and procedures have also been published. Please note that, for ease of review, most style and formatting changes are not shown in the mark-up.

Most other public documents have also been rebranded. However, some documents will continue to maintain Cboe branding. In particular, the technical specifications remain Cboe branded, noting that the TMX Australia market will continue to operate on the Cboe Titanium trading platform until it completes its platform migration.

Transition in Progress: We are now TMX Australia Exchange, however we continue to operate under Cboe Technology infrastructure until our migration is complete. Some materials may still carry Cboe branding & content - these remain fully valid and current and will be updated as the transition progresses.
