Summary of Issues

On June 24, 2002, Kevin Boyle, David Snyder, and Scott Snyder (“Claimants”) filed a Statement of Claim against LETCO Partners, L.L.C., LETCO-DPM, L.P., LETCO DPM, Inc., Lee Tenzer, John Robinson, and Scott Kilrea (“Respondents”) containing several counts. The disputes that underlie the Statement of Claim arise out of the sale by Claimants of their ownership interest in Boyle & Snyder, L.L.C. ("B&S") to Respondents.

In their first count, alleging fraud, Claimants allege that Respondents knowingly and deliberately made material misrepresentations and omissions to Claimants in connection with both the sale of B&S to Respondents and the sale of interest in LETCO-DPM, L.P. to Claimants. In their second count, Claimants allege that Respondents Lee Tenzer, Scott Kilrea, and John Robinson breached certain fiduciary duties owed to Claimants. In their third and fourth counts, Claimants allege that Respondents' conduct, as it pertains to the facts of this case, constitutes violations of various sections and rules of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. In their fifth and sixth counts, Claimants allege that Respondents' actions, as it pertains to the facts of this case, constitute violations of various Illinois State laws and. Claimants allege that, as a result of the aforementioned conduct, Claimants have suffered substantial damages, for which Claimants seek an award of compensatory damages, consequential damages, punitive damages, attorney fees, and costs. Finally, Respondents request that, under Illinois State Law, all Respondents should be compelled to submit to an accounting of all books and related to this dispute records.

At the hearing, Claimants requested specific compensatory damages of either $3,095,110 or $4,512,610, depending upon the method of damages calculation employed.

Respondents alleged that Respondents made no misrepresentations or omissions in relation to the sale of either B&S or of LETCO-DPM, L.P.; that Respondents breached no agreements between Respondents and Claimants; that Claimants received full and total consideration in relation to all agreements between Claimants and Respondents; and, that any resulting disputes related to the facts of this matter were resolved subsequent to the sales of both B&S and LETCO-DPM, L.P. Respondents claim that Claimants have no viable claims for fraud, for breach of fiduciary duty, for violations of federal securities laws, for violation of Illinois State Laws, or to demand an accounting.

In Respondents' counterclaim, Respondents allege that, because Claimants previously settled all claims Claimants asserted in this arbitration, Claimants should be ordered to repay all monies received pursuant to that settlement; in the amount of $426,300, plus attorney fees, cost, and interest.
