

New Cboe Options Exchange Production Platform Available for Test Symbol Trading Effective May 6, 2019

Reference ID: C2019050101

Overview

Cboe Options Exchange (“C1”) is pleased to announce that the new production C1 trading platform, targeted to go live on October 7, 2019 pending regulatory review, is on schedule to allow trading of test symbols starting Monday, May 6, 2019.

The new platform will be available during Regular Trading Hours (“RTH”) as well as during Global Trading Hours (“GTH”) for select test symbols. Note that GTH on the new platform will initially be limited to 8:30 – 9:15 a.m. ET with queuing beginning at 7:30 a.m. ET, but GTH on the new C1 platform will be normalized within the next month to match the expected GTH session.

On the effective date, TPHs and ISVs that have certified to the new C1 trading platform will be allowed to connect, submit orders, and receive market data for supported test symbols. GTC persistence may also be tested, and quotes and prints in the defined test classes will be distributed and disseminated from OPRA.

Options Test Classes Supported

On the effective date, the following test classes will be supported on the new C1 production platform. Note that certain test classes will be configured to mimic the special behavior of noted proprietary classes for the platform.

Test Class	Will Behave Like	Supported in GTH?
