

Cboe Silexx Announcement – September 20, 2022

Reference ID: C2022092000

Overview

Cboe Silexx is excited to announce the following enhancements:

- A new Routes panel has been added to settings. It allows for the sorting and pinning of available routes making them easier and quicker to locate in all order tickets pick menus.
- A Reg SHO indicator will appear in Option Chain, Watchlist, Portfolio, and all order tickets when a stock has triggered a short-sale threshold as defined by the SEC.
- Greeks market data are now available in Basket Trader.

Recent Enhancements:

- An order replace panel has been added to Order Manager. The panel can be enabled in the module's settings and allows for replacing quantity and price on an order without having to utilize the right-click menu to open an order ticket.
- Optional Data is now defaultable at account level.
- Multiple enhancements have been added to the Watchlist module including easier access to options through an expanded right-click menu.
- For Cboe trading floor users, physical location data of underlyings can be enabled in Option Chain's settings.
- Multiple user interface enhancements have been added, including the ability to resize undocked modules without restriction and, wherever date and time controls exist, the background color will be orange to indicate the selection is not the current date.
