

Reminder - Cboe to Begin Redirecting batstrading URLs

Applicable Cboe Exchanges: Cboe Europe Equities (“BXE” “CXE”, “DXE”, “TRF”, “SIS”)

Overview

Effective August 31, 2026, Cboe will begin redirecting URLs with the batstrading domain to a cboe domain.

Upon the effective date, any links containing the batstrading.com domain will be redirected to account.cboe.com, and any links containing batstrading.co.uk will be redirected to accounteu.cboe.com.

Additionally, the Cboe Titanium EU Secure Web API will be updated to redirect production and certification API services to the api-accounteu.cboe.com domain. Users can begin using the cboe.com URLs now and are encouraged to do so to avoid any issues when the redirection begins.

Redirection of resources will be seamless for most users but may impact automated scripts that are unable to follow redirects. Users may wish to update their systems to the new URLs noted in the specification linked below to avoid any disruption in the event redirection causes technical issues. There are no plans to retire the existing domain at this time.

Testing Opportunities

Certification environment URLs will begin redirecting July 31, 2026.
