Effective Tuesday, June 9, Cboe will update the names of multiple symbol reference files to include a reference to the applicable exchange as well as the addition of the text "symbol_reference." These changes will be implemented for the BZX, C1, C2, and EDGX Options Exchanges as well as CFE. See the Tradedesk Update.

Update – Cboe Disaster Recovery Data Center Migration for C2 Options and CFE in August/September 2020

Please be advised that the relocation of the Disaster Recovery (DR) environments to 350 Cermak (Chicago) for both C2 Options Exchange and CFE have been rescheduled to take place in August 2020 and September 2020, respectively. These migrations are taking place in preparation for Cboe's move out of 400 S. LaSalle in Chicago. These data center migrations will be seamless and will require no customer updates. Target network addresses and ports will not be modified and firm connectivity to the DR environments will continue to be supported from both 350 Cermak and 400 S. LaSalle at this time. See the Tradedesk Update.

We encourage your input on these and other exchange matters. Please feel free to contact us.
